DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of group 2, claims 2-3 in Paper No. 16 is acknowledged.
2. Claim 1 is withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 16.

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to because figures are improperly crosshatched. All of the parts shown in section, and only those parts, must be crosshatched. The crosshatching patterns should be selected from those shown on page 600-81 of the MPEP based on the material of the part. See also 37 CFR 1.84(h)(3) and MPEP 608.02. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim ~~2~~³ is unclear, regarding what are the metes and bounds of the claim. The method of making a device is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device, and will not be given patentable weight on the device claims. Those limitations are known as product by process limitations. If the product in the product-by-process claims is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claims are unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process. See In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964,966 (Fed.Cir 1985). A "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck, 177 USPQ 523; In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery, 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim, 191 USPQ 90 (209 USPQ 554 does not deal with this issue); In re Marosi et al, 218 USPQ 289; and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above case law makes clear.

Furthermore, no intermediate structure will be given patentable weight, only the final structure of the invention as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(^g) as being anticipated by Uchikawa et al. (US Patent No. 6,531,661). As best understood by the examiner:

Uchikawa teaches an interlayer connection printed wiring board (reference number 1) including: an insulator substrate (reference numbers 2 and 3) having first and second principal surfaces opposite to each other (reference number 22,30); first (reference number 22a) and second (reference number 30a) metal foils on both sides of said intermediate printed wiring board, and on an inner wall reference number of said through hole (reference number 5B), a corner rounded portion (reference number 6B), and an exposed surface (top of through hole reference number 30a) of said second metal foil exposed through the bottom of said through hole.

8. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Petefish (US Patent No. 6,531,661).

Petefish teaches a printed wiring board (reference number 44) including: an insulator substrate (reference number 38) having a first principal surface (top of reference number 38) and a second principal surface (bottom of reference number 38) opposite to said first principal surface; a first metal layer (reference number 42) formed on said second principal surface; said insulator substrate having a through hole (reference number 46) which is formed therein and extends in a direction substantially perpendicular to said first and said second principal surfaces so that a part of a surface of said first metal layer is exposed as an exposed surface through a bottom of said through hole (See figure 7), said printed wiring board comprising a second metal layer (reference number 40) formed on said first principal surface of said insulator substrate, on an inner wall (reference number 48) of said through hole, and on said exposed surface of the first metal layer (See Figure 7).

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following references teach some of the elements of the instant claimed invention: Shirai et al. (US Patent No. 5,537,740), Shirai et al. (US Patent No. 5,510,580) and Kersuzan et al. (US Patent No. 4,563,543).
